Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Come next October it will be three years since Selective Service Boards throughout the country began to function. For more than two years and a half the young manpower of the country has been going into the armed forces. Dislocations have been severe but this republic is resilient. We have accomodated ourselves to the home front handicaps and are carrying on. What they may be in the future, none can predict, but having met and overcome all manner of difficulties we believe the American people are facing what may come with cheerful assurance.

The beginning of the end of the war, as Winston Churchill remarked in substance, came with the Allied victory in Tunisia. We may now look forward to victory with more confidence each day. We are not guessing when that day will come, but like a great many other Americans, we do believe we should be ready not only with a plan for insuring world peace for at least a century, but also with a plan for taking up in an orderly manner the peace time business of the American way of life.

To resume in so far as possible those peace time industries on the farm and in the factory, without unnecessary dislocations, should be one of the problems solved as early as possible, before the war ends. Little business men who closed their businesse and went to work in war indutries should have an opportunity to open up their stores again. Women who left their homes and put their best efforts into providing the means to make war, should be gradually returned to the business of making good homes for husbands and children.

To accomplish this great shift from a war to a peace economy demands planning now. One of the methods of accomplishing it will be to demobilize the men and women in the armed services at least as slowly as the armed services absorbed them. Thereby soldiers and sailors can be discharged and returned to their homes and gradually restored to their peace time occupations without too much jarring of the social and industrial machinery.

Following the first world war something like 3,000,000 soldiers and sailors were demobilized in a comparatively brief period. One of the causes of the depression in the United States at least, was this sudden stoppage of employment in the armed forces of these millions. Government pay checks stopped. The change was too abrupt and a little over ten years later, we find this great nation well punished for its lack of foresight. The depression, had other causes, to be sure, but this releasing of millions of men so soon after the war ended, was easily one of the major reasons for depression in this country.

After the last world war we did keep a few troops in the Rhineland for a relatively short time to maintain terms of the Versailles treaty. The number was probably only a very small fraction of the number which must be maintained abroad in, perhaps, twenty different places around the globe, when this war ends, that is, if the United States is to do its share of world policing while peace terms and a system of world peace are agreed upon and placed in practical effect.

There will be, then, at least two reasons for avoiding a quick demobilization of the armed forces. One, to avoid dislocations such a step would entail at home, and second, to maintain a barrier against further disturbances of world peace abroad. And if a few thousand troops were needed, after world war No. 1, in the Rhineland to maintain peace, it would seem certain that two or three millions will be needed when this war is over to see that there are no more devastating wars, internecine or between hating neighbors, such as Hungary and Roumania. For it is to be hoped that with this war we have learned the lesson well, that any war any where around the globe, directly concerns us. If it is a little war, we should take the view that it can grow into a mighty big one. Witness Germany's invasion of Czecho-Slovakia.

We realize that when the war ends, our boys will want to come home, and that all of us fathers and mothers will want them home. It will be a difficult period.

The country's demagogues will make political capital of the situation. But it will also be another test of our democracy. Boiled down, it comes to thns. Can we wait with a patience while longer years in order to assure the welfare of the boys when they do come home, and to make our own country safe for their home coming. To keep the world safe for our children to live in we shall have to do our share in maintaining an orderly world.

CHAMBER VOTES FLOAT FOR 4TH OF JULY PARADE

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce directors, meeting Tuesday evening, voted to contribute a float to Fourth of July parade in Grass Valley on July 5th. Mayor Ben Hall and members of the Nevada City Council will ride in the procession. The Nevada City Fire Department is maturing plans for participation in the event.

TWO NEVADA CITY MEN JOIN FAMED SEA BEES

Chief of Police Max Solaro and Everett Robinson, having volunteered and having been accepted by the naval construction and engineering corps, known as the Sea Bees, have reported to the Nevada County Selective Service Board. They will be inducted on July ....th, and will go into the service together. In this global war the Sea Bees have won a place among the sea fighting forces alongside the U. S. Marines.

MANY FLOATS AND UNITS FOR FOURTH PARADE

Bert Chegwidden, chairman of the Fourth of July Committee, reporting yesterday to the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon in Bret Harte Inn, stated that to date he had definite promises of 25 units or floats for the Independence Day parade which this year will take place in Grass Valley, on Monday, July 5th.

Included in this list of marching attractions will be the sheriff5s posse, in which 30 horsemen are enrolled, and whose mounts are generally of a very impressive appearance, among them several palominos. Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen owns one of the handsomest of these pale sorrel horses.

Since Camp Beale army officers have decided that they will stage a celebration of a strictly military character at the camp itself, it now seems doubtful whether there will be any large showing of vehicles and marching men in the Grass Valley procession.

Elks Will Welcome 125 Soldiers Saturday Night

Nevada City Elks Lodge expects 125 soldiers to arrive Saturday afternoon and camp on Cashin Field for the night. They will enjoy a dance in the Elks Hall. The soldiers are providing their own orchestra and supper.

Dancing will be from 9 to 2 o'clock. Nevada City girls are invited to attend the dance for a happy evening.

ELECTION IN SECOND DISTRICT SET FOR AUG. 31

A special election will be held August 31 to fill the Second California congressional seat made vacant by the death of Representative Harry Englebright, Republican whip, it was announced yesterday by Governor Warren.

Already announced as candidates are Englebright's widow, Mrs. Grace Englebright; State Senator Jesse Mayo, Angels Camp, and State Senator Clair Engle, Red Bluff.

Mrs. Englebright and Mayo are Republicans and Engle is a Democrat.

In the special election, however, all candidates qualify by petition and run as independents. The candidates will contest for Englebright's unexpired term which runs until January of 1945.

Jayne and Seay, CO Cases, In Federal Court

Two young Nevada County men, who refused to be inducted into the country's armed forces, are in trouble. Robert Lester Jayne, a conscientious objector, who refused to report for induction either in the armed services or for work in CO camp, was yesterday sentenced to two years in a federal penitentiary by the Federal Court in Sacramento.

Francis Marion Seay, was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury in Sacramento, charged with the same offense. He will be tried in the near future.

U. S. MUST SHARE IN WORLD PEACE

DECLARES SENATOR JESSE MAYO, CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Calling for a sound post-war peace program and a rehabilitation program for the men of our armed services after the war, Senator Jesse M. Mayo, Calaveras county publisher and candidate for Congressman in the 2nd district at a special election to succeed the late Harry L. Englebright, today issued a statement declaring that "America can no longer isolate itself from the rest of the world and refuse to assume its share of responsibility for world peace as a member of the family of nations."

"Somewhere between the extreme isolationists of both major parties, who believe that America can live alone in the world and the starry-eyed social planners who want to put the whole world on a glorified WPA at the expense of the American taxpayers, we can find an honest solution to world peace," said Senator Mayo.

"That the United States must join with the victorious United Nations in establishing a world police force to crack the heads of every rising would-be world dictator seems to be inevitable." continued Senator Mayo. "If the United States is forced to join with the allied nations every 25 years in a struggle to put down aggressive dictators at such a tremendous sacrafice in human lives, it seems only logical and sensible that we must join these same allied nations after this war to insure against another costly war 25 years hence."

"I certainly don't pretend to have all the answers to the kind of peace plan the United States should adopt, but if I am elected to congress," stated Senator Mayo, "I shall be willing to sit down with other members of congress, both Republicans and Democrats and honestly try to find the right solution based upon common sense and world history."

"It is the duty of every member of congress," stated Senator Mayo, "to give to the president who is commander-in-chief and the Army and Navy the best tools of war that America can produce and then let the commander-in-chief, together with his military staffs conduct the war without political interference."

"After congress has given the Army and Navy the best available tools of war, it should turn its attention to post-war peace and rehabilitation," continued Mayo. "Little is gained if we win the war and lose the peace and the American form of government. It is up to congress to guarantee to every American fighting in all parts of the world for the American way of life, that when he or she returns, they will find the kind of America they risked their lives for. That they will find a job in private enterprise, at standard wages or enter in business for themselves and not be forced to accept a dole or WPA. That they will not have their lives regulated by bureaucrats and crack-pot planners."

"If I am elected to congress," stated Senator Mayo, "I shall cooperate with the president of the United States in winning the war and the peace to follow, but I shall never sacrifice my independence and become a rubber stamp. During the ten years I have served in the California legislature, I have always refused to submit to the dictates of any administration or pressure group and I shall continue to vote for the best interest of the people whom I represent without fear or favor."

SHERIFF'S POSSE TO AID IN ROUNDING UP CATTLE RUSTLERS

First complaints of cattle rustling in Nevada County this season reached Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen yesterday. Mrs. Charles Morandi of LeBarr Meadows, phoned the sheriff that the feet, head and entrails of a big steer were lying beside the Auburn highway in the vicinity of the Dew Drop Inn. Undersheriff William Woods was sent to investigate. By its ear marks it is believed the steer belonged to a herd pastured in the immediate neighborhood of the inn.

Early yesterday morning, Jay Coughlan, county supervisor, advised the sheriff that the entrails of a calf had been found near the former CCC camp above North Bloomfield on the Snow Tent road on Tuesday.

"I have predicted that cattle thieves will cause us trouble here in Nevada County," said Sheriff Tobiassen, "I have been organizing stockmen and have arranged to use the sheriff's mounted posse wherever feasible in aiding this office to run down these criminals. Due to war conditions, rationing and the high price of fresh meat, we must be especially vigilant, as this offense is likely to become common in this mountain country. While the herds in the southern end of the county, grazing near the homes of ranch owners, will probably not be molested, once they are driven to their summer pasture in the Sierras, it will be difficult to protect them or to apprehend thieves.

"The sheriff's mounted posse this summer is helping cattle owners to drive their herds into the mountains and will aid them again when they are brought home this fall. Members of the posse now number 30 men and while they are helping the stockmen they will be able to acquaint themselves with the country where the herds are grazing."

Five or six large herds of cattle have been driven through Nevada City during the past week to grazing grounds in the Tahoe National Forest.

MRS. JOHANNA RAGON CALLED BY GRIM REAPER

Mrs. Johanna Ragon, lifelong resident of Nevada couny, spending most of her years in Nevada City, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Allen Hill on the Grass Valley-Nevada City highway at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Ragon was the widow of the late Oliver Ragon, a veteran of the War Between the States and at 79 years herself was one of the few remaining women whose husbands participated in that conflict.

After spending many years at Willow Valley Mrs. Ragon continued in residence in the Nevada City area, rearing her family there and only within the past year did she go to her daughter on the highway east of this city to make her home.

Partially bedridden for many months and showing obvious declining health yet her death was something of a surprise and shock to her surviving family.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. this afternoon from the Holmes Funeral Home in Grass Valley with burial following in Nevada City.

Four daughters, three sons and many grandchildren and great grandchildren mourn Mrs. Ragon's passing. Her children are: Mrs. W. H. Brooks, Reno; Mrs. Ray Sharp, Mrs. Ray Wear and Mrs. Allen Hill, Grass Valley; Ben Ragon and Paul Ragon, Oakland and Theodore Ragon, Hayward.

QUEEN OF MAY FARCE DELIGHTS O.E.S. MEMBERS

Evangeline Chapter, O. E. S. celebrated its 70th anniversary Tuesday evening with two hundred members and visitors present to enjoy initiating of members and a splendid program. An unusual feature was the initiation of five Masons into the order. One of them, Thomas Lawrence was the husband of the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Elfriede Lawrence.

Mrs. Doris Foley, district deputy grand matron, twelve past matrons and three past patrons were given special honors. All visiting past matrons and past patrons of other chapters were given specal attention.

Miss Pauline Cohn, native of this city who came up for the anniversary made a most pleasing talk. Mrs. Annie Sherman also delighted all with a talk on experiences in the chapter years ago.

The May Day theme of the program created much merriment. Patron James Snell was crowned Queen of the May by crown bearer, Walter Carlson. The Maypole group of men dressed in ballet costumes kept the audence in continual laughter for many minutes. In the latter group were Irving Long, Howard Sturtevant, Cameron Larsen, Ernest Young, Max Solaro, Ruddy Berggren, James Penrose, Howard Penrose, Miles Coughlin, Fred Shaw, Flower "girls" were John O'Neill and James Penrose.

The birthdays of those who celebrate them in April, May and June were remembered. There were twenty present to enjoy the remembrance. Aurora Chapter of Grass Valley presented Evangeline Chapter with a gift honoring the anniversary. A turkey dinner was served in the banquet room at the close of the evening.

NOR. SAN JUAN GETS READY FOR CHERRY FETE

Cherries are ripe in North San Juan, and pickers are busy filling boxes with the big, luscious fruit, to which all visitors and guests will be treated Saturday when the annual Cherry Carnival will take place there.

Mrs. Amelia Cunningham, who in past years has helped to make the Cherry Carnival a Nevada County event long to be remembered, again heads the commttee, which is preparing for an influx of home coming, former residents who try to make the little village on the "Ridge" their Mecca on this occasion.

Invitations have gone forth to soldiers and officers of Camp Beale to attend this celebration and feast upon the Royal Anne, Bing and Tartarian cherries for which the locality is justly renowned. Despite gasoline and rubber shortages it is anticipated that the usual number of merry makers will gather in the hospitable village for daytime social interchanges and night-time dancing in the community house, known as Twambly Hall.

CENTIPEDES NOT DANGEROUS BUT DON'T PINCH IT

Mrs. Ed Martine found a large centipede in her linen closet last week and took the insect to L. G. Lageson, county horticultural commissioner. The following notes were prepared by him:

CENTIPEDE (Scolopendra Heros)

This centipede can inflict a painful bite if it is pinched when a person puts on or handles clothing in the folds of which it happens to be hiding.

There seems to be no record of a centipede seriously harming persons in this country, although secondary infecton may result from the bite. Centipedes are not welcome in houses, even though they feed upon insects and may truthfully be considered beneficial.

Centipedes are feared by many because they have poison glands in the claws of the first pair of leglike appendages. The poison injected into insects and other tiny creatures when they are bitten by a centipede usually causes immediate death or paralysis, thus aiding the centipede in capturing its prey. Most centipedes throughout the north are comparatively small and rarely, if ever, enter houses or bite man.

Miss Fay Kent To Wed Harry Dreith

Miss Fay Kent and Harry Dreith of Grass Valley will be married Saturday evening in the Methodist church there. Rev. Mark Pike, pastor, will perform the ceremony.

The bride will be attended by Miss Everill Clemo, a niece, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Misses Vivian Keeler, another niece, Louise Ducotey and Lorraine Harris. Clarence Banghart will be the best man.

Miss Kent is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Kent, Grass Valley. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Amelia Dreith of Suisun. He is employed in Safeway store in Grass Valley, Miss Kent is an assistant in the office of County Assessor P. G. Scadden.

Following their honeymoon the couple will reside at 519 South Auburn street, Grass Valley.

TOM LEGG ON ATLANTIC COAST

Mr. and Mrs. George Legg of this city esterday received a telegram from Tom Legg in the U. S. Navy. He said he did not like the weather "on the East Coast." It is assumed that he is somewhere on the Atlantic seaboard.

Young Legg fas on a destroyer in the Battle of Midway. His destroyer was sunk.

JOB INSURANCE REFORM

Today, with work more plentiful than men to do the work, and with jobless workers virtually non-existent, the unemployment problem which haunted us throughout the depression may seem far removed and of little current importance. But actually, this is the time to provide against disastrous unemployment conditions during the critical years of post-war adjustment—and to build a sound system which will aid in averting privation and want when men are temporarily thrown out of work.

Reassuring, in this regard, is the action of Governor Warren in signing the Ward bill, abolishing the State Employment Commission, which same into such unsavory repute during the Olson regime, and creating a new California Stabilization Commission to administer the state's unemployment insurance problem. This legislation was fathered by Senator Clarence C. Ward of Santa Barbara, who headed the legislative committee which investigated the scandalous conditions that existed in this department during the depression, and who recommended sweeping and necessary changes to protect both workers and employers from practices that threatened to destroy the usefulness of the whole unemployment insurance program .

The unemployment insurance fund has accumulated tremendous reserves, aggregating in the neighborhood of $300,000,000. It is of vital importance to California that every effort to dissipate this money be forestalled, and that the fund should be kept intact and augmented against the rainy days that are bound to follow when war industries are shut down. The new commission will be composed of two men from labor, two from industry and one representing the public at large. They have a big and important job to do in reorganizing the administration of fund—and it is good that the work is being started now, when there is time to do it thoroughly.

SEN. JESSE MAYO WANTS NO JAPS ON PAC. COAST

ANGELS CAMP, June 14.—"Under no circumstances should the evacuated Japanese be returned to California and the Pacific Coast," stated Senator Jesse M. Mayo, who returned last week from Washington, D. C. on state business.

"While in Washington," said Senator Mayo, "I sat in a conference with the head of the War Relocation Authority, who admitted that at least 30,000 of the interned Japanese had already been released and that plans were underway to eventually release approximately 75 per cent of those interned."

The director of the Authority told the California delegation that before a Japanese had been released he was thoroughly checked by the FBI. Later in a conference with Lee Pennington, assitant director to Edgar Hover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Pennington told Senators Mayo and Jerrold Seawell who were members of the committee in Washington, that such was not the case and that the FBI did not check the individual Japs that were released.

Senator Mayo quoted Pennington as saying, "we in the FBI are not called upon to investigate released Japanese, the only thing the War Relocation Authority does is to send us a list of those considered for release and ask us if we have a file on them. Which of course means nothing. The mere fact we have no file on a person does not give that person a clean bill of health."

"The Army under General DeWitt removed the West Coast Japanese inland for military protection of the coast," stated Senator Mayo, but unfortunately the War Relocation Authority, a civilian agency, crammed full of social planners took over the job from the army and immediately began to lay plans for what they termed 'reinstatement of the Japanese in American society,' and the return of the Japs to their former homes."

In Washington, Mayo discussed the situation with Congressman Leroy Johnson who has worked out a legal plan for getting rid of most of the Japanese after the war.

Senator Mayo who is a candidate for Congress in the second district at a special election called for August 31st, stated: "If I am elected to coufress, I shall certainly work with Congressman Johnson to put his plan through congress. I shall also stand back of General John DeWitt all the way in his efforts to resist the return of the Japs to the west coast."

FOUND GUILTY OF THEFT

Charles Davis, charged with theft, was found guilty Monday by a jury sitting in the Grass Valley township court of Justice of the Peace Charles Morehouse.

Seven witnesses were called by Deputy District Attorney William Cassettari. The complaining witness L. P. Van Meter, alleged he left a washing machine and a refrigerator in Davis "care," and that he sold them for his own profit. Attorney Vernon Stoll was defense attorney. Davis will hear his sentence tomorrow.

TO JOIN WAVES

Miss Angie Cilione, office secretary in the James S. Hennessy Schoool of Grass Valley, has been accepted in the ranks of the WAVES and leaves shortly for Hunter's College, New York, where she will be given her training.

You Don't Have to Stand in Line . . .

To Buy ELECTRIC POWER

THAT'S TRUE, even though the electric light and power industry in America was called on to produce, in 1942, the greatest amount of electric power in history—189 billion kilowatt-hours!

And at the same time the average cost per kilowatt-hour to the consumer was lower than ever before!

Not only were all the demands of war plants, military camps, naval stations, and arsenals met—but there remained 27 billion kilowatt-hours of electrical energy to take care of the needs of shops and stores, 30 billion for homes, 13 billion for public transportation, street lighting, and other uses.

These are some of the accomplishments of the electric light and power industry and of the electrical manufacturers who build the equipment used to generate, distribute, and utilize electricity—working together with the teamwork so typically American.

How We Helped

POWER GENERATION. More than one half of all the electric power generated by electric light and power companies in the U. S. is produced by generators manufactured by General Electric.

And such has been the improvement in the efficiencies of turbine-driven generators that if the electric power used in 1942 had been produced with the machines of 1924, it would have required more than a million extra cars of coal and one hundred and forty thousand men just to mine and haul this extra coal.

POWER DISTRIBUTION. To have ample power available wherever new war plants have sprung up requires large and highly efficient transforming and switching equipment and the solution of highly intricate engineering problems. General Electric has had a hand, and a head, in the development and manufacture of much of this equipment.

POWER UTILIZATION. Building machines, lamps, and appliances that put electricity to work more efficiently in factories and homes is one of our most important jobs. The United States has more of these electrical helpers than any other nation. In 1942, the average home used twice as much electricity as in 1930, and in those 12 years the average price per kilowatt-hour decreased 40%.

This is only a small part of the story of America's electrical industry. When the full story becomes history with the passing of the years, it will reveal a group of men who, with a determination which now seems providential, kept on—co-operatively developing new and better equipment, increasing generating capacity, lowering costs, expanding service, planning always to be ready for the demands of the future. It will be a story of remarkable vision and courage—for it all had to be planned, and the work started, years ahead of the need.

The next time you meet a man from your electric service company, be he the local manager, or meter reader, or spurred lineman carrying out his assignment in rain, sleet, or heavy winds, give him a word of encouragement—for he is the man who is making it unnecessary for you to stand in line for electric power. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Mrs. Hicks Is Placed On Probation For Year

Mrs. Beatrice Hicks, who pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of her three little daughters, 5, 3 and two years of age, appearing before Judge George L. Jones yesterday for sentence, was placed on pro- 5, 3 and 2 years of age, appearing to the custody of the sherff until such time as arrangements have been completed to return her and the children to Alameda county, where her husband is employed.

Grass Valley Girl Is Assistant District Attorney

Miss Katherine Carson, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. James Tyrrell of Grass Valley, has been appointed an assistant district attorney in Alameda County. Miss Carson graduated from the University of California where she received her degree in Social Service. She engaged in that profession but in her leisure time studied law and a year ago was admitted to practice.

Impressed by the demands for war workers, however, Miss Carson enrolled in a San Francisco bay shipyard as a flanger and welder. After working there for a year she noted an item in a newspaper telling of the difficulty of the district attorney in obtaining competent assistants. She applied for a job there and was accepted. Miss Carson formerly lived in Grass Valley.

Donald Burtner, sponsored by the Grass Valley Rotary Club, Bret Bennallack, American Legion, and Pat Ingram, Grass Valley Lions Club, are the boys from Grass Valley who will take part in the Boys State, which the California Department of the American Legion organizes each year in Sacramento.

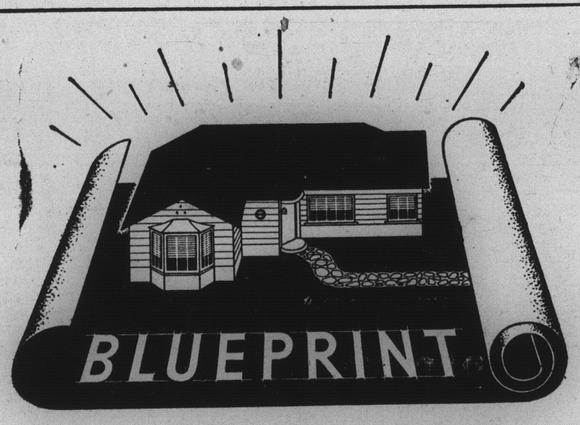

The three are Grass Valley's representatives among the 600 from all parts of the state which are expected to attend. The boys will live in a camp and conduct experiments in county and state government as part of their traning in the principles of American citizenship. The camp is open for one week beginning Wednesday, and sessions will be held in the Grant Union Hgh School, Sacramento.

DEATH SUMMONS HARRY B. COX

Harry B. Cox, 63, proprietor of Barnegat Ranch at the Indian Springs district, died at the Miners Hospital, Nevada City, at 1 p. m. Tuesday, following a week and a half of critical illness and a much longer period of declining health.

Cox, who instituted the first modern all electric dairy plant in Nevada county, to handle the milk products of an all Guernsey purebred herd, achieved statewide and western state distinction for the success of his enterprise. He demonstrated that the latent possibilities of county agricultural lands for dairy farming could be brought to satisfactory production.

Cox served several terms as president of the California Guernsey Cattle Club.

In developing an up to the minute dairy farm and plant from an average Nevada county farm ,approximately 11 miles southwest of Grass Valley, on the Spenceville road, Harry Cox performed an outstanding service to the county. His barns, milk house, electrified equipment, have been viisited by hundreds of local residents and interested dairymen and Four-H boys from northern California as an ideal setup.

Cox was constantly improving both plants and herd, although his stock, all federal accredited and registered with the American Guernsey Club, established record after record for cream production while his heifers, sold for breeding, commanded top prices with herd purchasers.

Harry Cox was born far from the soil of Nevada county, rather in the largest city of the nation—New York City. He was educated at Hill School, Pottstown, Pennsylvania and attended Yale University, graduating with the class of 1903. On completing college, Cox engaged in linoleum merchandising in the city of Philadelphia, which became his home for a considerable period. He established a summer home on Barnegat Bay, New Jersey, scene of his younger years and the Barnegat Bay of New Jersey's coast also served to name the ranch he later established in this county.

During World War I, the recently deceased Nevada county man served in the United States Navy as a full lieutenant. Not generally known to many he maintained membership in Hague-Thomas-Hegarty Post, No. 130, the American Legion of Grass Valley.

Harry Cox first became interested in Nevada county after meeting Sidney B. Wood, Grass Valley mining man and promoter, who was in the east in the summer of 1923 in the interest of his You Bet and Red Dog mining projects. Deciding to make a change he came west and arranged for the purchase of the Indian Springs Ranch. At approximately the same time, 1924, the marriage of Mr. Cox and Juliet Inness Ellsworth took place at Sacramento and the couple proceeded to Indian Springs to make their home and develop an outstanding ranch.

In addition to serving as president of the Californa Guernsey Cattle Club, Cox also held membership in the Percheron Association, Hampshire Swine and Hampshire Sheep associations although he had long ago discarded this type of stock raising.

Although affiliated at present with no local organizations except the American Legion, the late Harry Cox was long an interested and supporting member of farm organizations, civic enterprises and regional developments.

His passing is mourned by his wife, Mrs. Juliet Cox; a step son, George Ellsworth and daughter, Mrs. Bernard Avilla, Sacramento.

The Hooper Weaver Mortuary will conduct funeral services at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow, June 18, with burial following in the Indian Springs cemetery. Rev. Cedric Porter, Episcopal rector of Nevada City will read the service at the obsequities.

OWNER OF DOG THAT BIT WOMAN SUED FOR $10,438

A suit for damage stotaling $10,438.87, was filed yesterday in the superior court, Mrs. Madge M. Knack and George Knack against Mrs. Angelina Galley, sometimes known as Angelina Parente, whose vicious dog, Mrs. Knack alleges bit her while she was buying chickens of Mrs. Galley on Christmas Day, 1942.

The dog according to the complains was known to be vicious and was "accustomed to biting human beings". The effect of the bite, according to Mrs. Knack, left her "sore, sick and lame." She states that after spending $438.87 for hospital and nursng service and for doctors fees, she is still in that condition and regards her injuries as permanent. The dog bit her left leg, she declares. In addition to recovery of the sum mentioned, she asks $10,000 exemplary damages. Her attorney is James Snell of Grass Valley. Mrs. Galley owns the Happy Hour Place on the Colfax road and sells chickens at retail.

Wilfred Joyal In Air Training In Basic Field

Aviation Cadet Wilfred N. Joyal, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Joyal, Park Avenue, Route 1, attended the Placer Junior College at Auburn, where he participated in football, basketball, and track and was a member of the Drama Guild, the Forestry Club, the Ski Club, and the Aehletic Association. He has three brothers in service, one first lieutenant, in the Air Forces, and two in the Navy. Cadet Joyal completed elementary flight training at Chickasha, Oklahoma and is now at the basic flying school at an army air field at Garden City, Kansas.

Ryan, Alleged Drunken Driver, Held To Answer

In the court of Justice of the Peace Charles Morehouse, Edward D. Ryan, charged with violating Section 501 of the Vehicle Code, relating to drunken or negligent driving, resulting in injuries, was held to answer in the superior court.

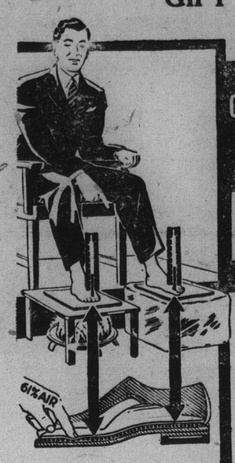

District Attorney Ward Sheldon examined the following witnesses: Neil Suouela, California Highway Patrolman Carl Kitts, who investigated the accident, Captain Jos. E. Blake of the highway patrol, and Dr. George Foster.

While driving a car under the influence of liquor, it is alleged Ryan went off the Auburn road into the creek near Rattlesnake Creek Bridge. His companion, Michael Nevins suffered injuries from which he died the following day.
